FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

STETSON SELECTS TICKETRETURN TO POWER ATHLETICS TICKETING OPERATIONS

Stetson University Athletics has selected TicketReturn to bring their industry-leading box office, online, and mobile technologies to their fans and campus.

TicketReturn offers nearly two decades of technology management experience to help clients across the country exceed their goals. The Charlotte, NC based company offers a full suite of ticketing innovations, including event marketing, access control, attendance reporting, accounting, and fundraising features for sports and entertainment venues.

Stetson University Athletics officials referenced the unrivaled support that the TicketReturn client support team provides. They take the time to learn your business so that they can develop the right ticketing options to achieve your objectives.

“Stetson is excited to introduce TicketReturn to our box office operations.” said Daniel Schubert, Assistant Athletic Director for Tickets. “The technology is very easy to use but still provides a robust feature set and delivers a great experience to any fan coming to a game.”

Box office officials are also excited to leverage the multiple digital ticketing solutions that TicketReturn delivers and provide fans with the tickets they need via the delivery that they prefer. Fans will be able to text and email tickets as well as access them on their mobile device.

“TicketReturn is excited to kick off our partnership with Stetson University Athletics.” said Christie Hussey, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for TicketReturn. “We pride ourselves on continuous development and enhancements and look forward to delivering industry leading technology to the box office team and their fans.”

This partnership furthers TicketReturn’s commitment to provide ticketing solutions and services to professional sports teams, cultural facilities, colleges, and universities throughout the country.
